

Anonymity Statement

In closing this meeting let me remind you, you and me, that although no individual has the right to be wrong in his facts, every individual has the right to his own opinions.

Please remember that the opinions expressed here are strictly those of the individual. Remember also that ANONYMITY is the spiritual foundations of the AA traditions. The things that you hear here and share here are spoken and shared in confidence. Let them be treated as confidential.

If you listen with an open mind; if you try to absorb what you see and hear, you are bound to gain a better understanding of yourself, your problem, and a way to better handle that problem.

Talk with each other. Reason with each other. But let there be NO GOSSIP or NO CRITICISM of another. Instead, please let the love, acceptance, understanding and companionship of the program grow inside you one day at a time.

Would those who care to please help me close this meeting with The Lord's Prayer.
